captured by the nazis as a teenager in poland the author tells of his survival and eventual move to america where he proudly worked and raised a family

this is the memoir of one of two sisters who survived the holocaust by posing as catholic poles in germany during world war ii they missed the liquidation of their ghetto by mere hours hiding in a shed all night listening to the screams of their fellow jews then went into germany and took up work in a hotel housing gestapo officers many close escapes and daring moments make this book chilling one of the oldest living holocaust survivors recounts her family s imprisonment at auschwitz and bergen belsen and the extraordinary bond with her mother that ultimately saved her life in this moving memoir of love loss courage and hope i only survived because of my mother s love when german soldiers invaded poland in september 1939 a six year journey began for then ten year old renee salt and her mother sala until their liberation in 1945 renee and sala were imprisoned in ghettos and concentration camps including auschwitz birkenau and bergen belsen the only light in the darkness and brutality for renee was the unwavering grasp of her mother s hand in hers enduring against all odds it was this unbreakable bond along with a few miracles that kept renee alive sala s staggering courage to defy the will of ss guards saved both her and her daughter from the gas chambers and the pair survived the deadliest days in auschwitz s history after suffering the nightmarish conditions at bergen belsen renee and her mother were liberated in april 1945 to this day renee attributes her survival to the love and bravery of her beloved mother do not cry when i die is an incredibly moving and deeply crucial book that tells the shocking story of one of the oldest auschwitz birkenau and bergen belsen survivors and the mother s love that saved her life i am a jew between 1933 and 1945 i lived in germany the country of my birth with the many who perished and with the few who survived the holocaust with these bald statements ken arkwright commences the story of his life there have been countless stories written by and about holocaust survivors and each one has its own perspective each being a witness statement an eye witness account and each deserves to be told this particular book has the interesting provenance of having first been published in german where it aroused considerable interest now hybrid publishers is proud to release a revised and updated english edition with fascinating material about arkwright s life and times for decades the author resisted telling his story as he comments many years of reflecting on these events had to take place to make me feel the need to write about this journey he feels an urgency to tell his story as otherwise his unique life experiences and the life stories of some of the people he met and who perished in the holocaust will die with him now in his ninetieth year ken arkwright writes with clarity and in great detail and with a remarkable lack of bitterness about the progress of his life through the great depression the rise of the nazis and the second world war it is indeed a story beyond survival in 1943 sixteen year old paul steinberg was arrested in paris and deported to auschwitz a chemistry student steinberg was assigned to work in the camp s laboratory alongside primo levi who would later immortalize his fellow inmate as henri the ultimate survivor the paradigm of the prisoner who clung to life at the cost of his own humanity one seems to glimpse a human soul levi wrote in survival in auschwitz but then henri s sad smile freezes in a cold grimace and here he is again intent on his hunt and his struggle hard and distant enclosed in armor the enemy of all now after fifty years steinberg speaks for himself in an unsparing act of self examination he traces his passage from artless adolescent to ruthless creature determined to do anything to live he describes his strategies of survival the boxing matches he staged for the camp commanders the english pows he exploited the maneuvers and tactics he applied with cold competence ultimately he confirms levi s judgment no doubt he saw straight i probably was that creature prepared to use whatever means i had available but he asks is it so wrong to survive brave and rare speak you also is an unprecedented response to those dreadful events bringing us face to face with the most difficult questions of humanity and survival from booklist muchman was born in berlin in 1933 in march 1939 she her parents and four relatives fled to brussels to escape the nazi regime in 1942 germany occupied belgium and muchman s parents brought her and her cousin to the home of two catholic women for safekeeping her parents were killed she survived and was ultimately brought to the u s where she was adopted by an aunt and uncle in chicago muchman grew up believing that her jewish parents had abandoned her in 1990 a box was discovered in her uncle s home that contained faded letters documents and old photographs the letters had been written by her parents in the 1940s i finally was able to discover in a deep fundamental way that my parents had loved me more than life itself the author relates this important book brings the enormous magnitude of the holocaust down to a very personal level it contains poignant black and white family photographs and reproductions of passports and other documents memoirs of a jew born in 1915 in gevelsberg germany at the end of 1933 boucher then bouscher moved to the netherlands his parents joined him in 1938 at the outbreak of the war boucher and his wife hilde lived in rotterdam they were evicted from there and went to stay with relatives in enschede in september 1942 the bouchers and their relatives went into hiding mainly with akke and tjeerd van der zee in the town of sneek friesland until the liberation boucher praises the many righteous gentiles who rescued him and his family the bouchers emigrated to the usa in 1947 pp 103 109 contain an interview with tjeerd van der zee conducted by boucher in 1982 pp 113 136 present photographs and documents relating to the memoirs pp 137 177 contain stories of the experiences of family and friends some of whom survived the holocaust while others perished this story of courage determination and hope is a powerful and moving memoir that pays tribute to love and devotion and the special bond between a mother and a daughter trudi berger was literally snatched from the flames of the holocaust she and her mother were sent to the camps yet trudi was saved from death not once but dozens of times by her will to live her quick wit her self confidence and especially her love for her mother it was this sense of devotion that in the end kept them both alive to see liberation from the camps and a return to life

one of the oldest living holocaust survivors recounts her family s imprisonment at auschwitz and bergen belsen and the extraordinary bond with her mother that ultimately saved her life in this moving memoir of love loss courage and hope i only survived because of my mother s love when german soldiers invaded poland in september 1939 a six year journey began for then ten year old renee salt and her mother sala until their liberation in 1945 renee and sala were imprisoned in ghettos and concentration camps including auschwitz birkenau and bergen belsen the only light in the darkness and brutality for renee was the unwavering grasp of her mother s hand in hers enduring against all odds it was this unbreakable bond along with a few miracles that kept renee alive sala s staggering courage to defy the will of ss guards saved both her and her daughter from the gas chambers and the pair survived the deadliest days in auschwitz s

history after suffering the nightmarish conditions at bergen belsen renee and her mother were liberated in april 1945 to this day renee attributes her survival to the love and bravery of her beloved mother do not cry when i die is an incredibly moving and deeply crucial book that tells the shocking story of one of the oldest auschwitz birkenau and bergen belsen survivors and the mother s love that saved her life presents synopses of 21 published memoirs of holocaust survivors written by various authors the aim of the digest is to make the contents of the memoirs available for holocaust educators students and researchers each entry contains publication details a summary focusing on the main topics e g prewar jewish life daily life in ghettos deportations nazi camps death marches resistance and rescuers a list of place names and maps each volume includes 30 new color maps prepared by martin gilbert by the time the nazis had overrun eta fuchs s village of tasnad they had developed a system of murder by bureaucracy routinely processing jewish communities for destruction singling out strong workers and efficiently killing everyone else when soldiers herded the tasnad jews into boxcars eta fuchs was twenty one four years later she arrived in canada with her husband myer berkowitz a survivor of the slaughter in poland she had seen her entire family gassed at auschwitz clung to life in a slave labour factory and endured the miseries of a german camp for stateless refugees a teenage girl recounts the suffering and persecution of her family under the nazis in a polish ghetto during deportation and in a concentration camp this book explores how the women s orchestra at auschwitz birkenau has been remembered in both media and popular culture since the end of the second world war in particular it focuses on fania fenelon s memoir playing for time 1976 which was subsequently adapted into a film since then the publication has become a cornerstone of holocaust remembrance and scholarship susan eischeid therefore investigates whether it deserves such status and whether such material can ever be considered reliable source material for historians using divergent source material gathered by the author such as interviews with the other surviving members of the orchestra this pivot seeks to shed light on this period of women s history and questions how we remember the holocaust today what do james frey s a million little pieces margaret b jones love and consequence and wanda koolmatrie s my own sweet time have in common none of these popular books are what they appear to be frey s fraudulent drug addiction memoir was really a semi fictional novel jones chronicle of her life in a street gang was a complete fabrication and koolmatrie was not an aboriginal woman removed from her family as a child as in her seemingly autobiographical account but rather a white taxi driver named leon carmen deceptive literary works mislead readers and present librarians with a dilemma whether making recommendations to patrons or creating catalog records objectivity and accuracy are crucial and can be difficult when a book s authorship or veracity is in doubt this informative and entertaining study addresses ethical considerations for deceptive works and proposes cataloging solutions that are provocative and designed to spark debate an extensive annotated bibliography describes books that are not what they seem author naomi litvin recreates her parents incredible love story in the powerful memoir we never lost hope litvin the daughter of a holocaust survivor and an american jewish gi who landed at normandy lets her family members reveal the stories of their lives before during and after the holocaust told in five indelible voices the book gives a you are there punch and a moving immediacy lovely and haunting we never lost hope is a reminder that genocide can happen anywhere and that we all must be vigilant against the forces of hatred five relatives narrate their harrowing world war ii experiences in this family chronicle it could be said that rather than writing this affecting and effective book litvin sculpted it her breezy but vital narrative provides the shape and overall historical context for her family s story but her relatives are the ones doing the real work using the first person accounts of her parents an aunt an uncle and a friend of the family the author offers a nuanced and multifaceted look at the plight of jews in mid 20th century eastern europe from a small angora farm in satu mare romania to the horrifying grounds of auschwitz and finally to a new life in america the five distinct voices of edith hilda and mendi festinger nate litvin and kurt meyers provide a powerful and intimate journey through one of mankind s darkest hours litvin does well not to mute her sources with an authoritative filter the book s undeniable authenticity comes from the life events retold by each narrator while most historical texts offer one individual s take we never lost hope presents five survivors working through their memories litvin augmented the book with photographs news articles and other ephemera telegrams maps etc that support the sense of intimacy and reality since some accounts can occasionally run long it may have been helpful for litvin to provide more editorial insight and direction still the book is a soaring testament to the strength and adaptability of five remarkable people a wonderfully executed powerful family chronicle kirkus discoveries 2 13 09
